About us.

Founded in Michigan over sixteen years ago, Builder Direct began as a small company focused on housing rehabilitation. Years of success stemmed additional services in the line of construction management, specification writing and bid packaging. Eventually the organization grew to become one of the largest construction material wholesale suppliers in the region.

BDI Warehouse, Detroit MI

Today, BDI services a national clientele supplying materials and services for educational, housing, retail, commercial, medical and industrial construction projects. Our dedicated supplier base now reaches coast to coast and is capable of fulfilling the material requirements for any project within the continental US. The organization remains strong in Michigan and has expanded its physical operations into the southeast with a second office in North Carolina.
